

DogOn

all dogs, all breeds, all day

We believe that dog-on can be a force for good in promoting responsible pet ownership in the canine loving community. Through its shows, dramas, and features, dog-on hopes to communicate valuable insight and essential information to its viewers; enabling them to make informed choices in the care of their pets.

Dog-on makes no distinction between breed or pedigree, and believes all pets are of equal importance and value.

Dog-on aspires, as the first ever television channel in the U.S. dedicated to dog lovers, to set the standard in enlightening its audience towards these objectives. Because we believe above all, that our pets, though they be canine, bring out the best of what is human in all of us.

Show Dogs

On any given weekend, on stages across the country, little and big dogs parade around some with bows, some with royal blood, a lot of practice and hours of grooming, to be judged on their coat, personality and breed. Show Dogs follows dogs and their sometimes eccentric and over zealous pet owners on their quest for trophies, big titles, and lots of cash.

Watch Show Dogs, Weeknights at 8 PM ET/PT.

doggie tales

The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals brings "doggie tales" a television series all about dogs and the people who love them. "doggie tales" features dogs of all sizes, shapes and breeds from across the United States. It is an Award-winning program designed to honor our wonderful canine friends while bringing the viewer a variety of entertaining stories which both educate and inform.

Watch doggie tales, Weeknights, 9 PM ET/PT.

Pack Rules

Frank Paw has been called a Dr. Phil for dogs, and for good reason. Paw's amazing rehabilitations of aggressive, scared, lazy, compulsive, and jealous dogs captured the national spotlight when his series Pack Rules premiered in September 2004. Regular viewers soon came to realize it wasn't the dogs but the quirky owners who needed Paws's help the most.

Watch Pack Rules, Weeknights, 10 PM ET/PT.

k9 health line

K9 Health Line is an inspiring medical drama about the courage of a team of expert veterinarian surgeons who shine brightest when working under pressure against the clock to save critically injured dogs. The team comprises of quirky over-the-top doctors who are quickly learning the meaning of trial by fire and the need for balance between their needs and those of their patients' families.

Watch Pack Rules, Weeknights, 11 PM ET/PT.
